- Israeli Occupation Authorities approved a solid waste landfill project on over 500 kilometers of land in occupied East Jerusalem. The district planning and construction committee approved that plan, number 13900, to build a landfill on over 546 dunums of land between the villages of al-Issawiya and Anata and over 13 of which will be used for a road network leading to the landfill. The landfill will be built in a valley in Wadi Qasim and Wadi Kabina, on the lands of al-Issawiya and Anata where solid waste will be buried under construction remains, before a public park is built over it, the plan says. The landfill will be built close to the E1 planned settlement compound which is planned to hold 4,000 settlement houses, and aims to unite East Jerusalem and Ma'ale Adumim settlement. Noted that about 30 Bedouin families have been living in that area for over 50 years, and their wishes were disregarded by the Israeli occupation. (Maannews 17 February 2015)
