Israeli Settler Violence

- An Israeli settler, exploited the lockdown imposed in the occupied territories to raze Palestinian land between Rafat and Qalandia towns, northwest of Jerusalem. The settler razed a tract of Palestinian-owned land between the aforementioned towns, planted it with saplings and erected a fence around it, before being spotted and repelled by staff from the Jerusalem Governor's Office. (IMEMC 25 March 2020)
- Israeli settlers constructed and paved a settler-only road and set up several mobile homes on Palestinian-owned land in KHALLET AN-NAHLEH, south of Bethlehem. (IMEMC 25 March 2020)

Settlers attacked Palestinian farmers with sharp tools as they worked on their land, injuring two people. The settlers left their cattle to graze on Palestinian-owned land; the farmers reacted by rushing to protect their land from seizure, leading to confrontations between residents and illegal Israeli settlers. ### Home Demolition & Demolition threats

An Israeli troop obstructed installation works in the Kherbet Aldeir village, within the Tubas governorate. Israeli authorities, escorted by the military, invaded the Kherbet Aldeir village, and handed warrants to local farmers, who were attempting to install solar panels and a green house on their farm land.
