Israeli Settler Violence

- Dozens of Jewish settlers desecrated the courtyard of the Bab al-Rahma prayer building at the Aqsa Mosque and performed rituals. The Israeli occupation police expelled Muslim worshipers from the Bab al-Rahma area and allowed settlers to tour its courtyards. Meanwhile, the Israeli police issued decisions banning a number of Palestinian citizens from entering the Aqsa Mosque compound for one week. The banished citizens are director of the Palestinian Prisoner Society Naser Qaws, journalist Sundus Owais and pro-Aqsa activist Ra'eda Sa'eid. Police forces arrested the citizens at the pretext of their presence in the Aqsa Mosque's courtyards during the settlers' tours at the holy site. The police also ordered them to come again for interrogation and threatened to examine the possibility of extending their banishment from the Aqsa Mosque. (PALINFO 1 JUNE 2020)
- A group of Israeli settlers desecrated the Aqsa Mosque under police protection. A large number of police forces spread outside the Mosque and through its courtyards to provide protection for the settlers during their tours at the Islamic holy site. (PALINFO 1 JUNE 2020)
- Israeli settlers from the Maon and Havat Maon settlements placed a mobile home next to a tent they set up on land part of the village of Tuwani in Masafer Yatta as part of their effort to build an illegal settlement outpost in that area. (WAFA 1 June 2020)

Home Demolition & Demolition threats

- Two Palestinian brothers, demolishing their two homes in the Jerusalem neighborhood of Jabal al-Mukaber, after the demolition was ordered by the Israeli municipality. Imad and Ahmad Mashahreh said that they were given demolition notices, and decided to embark on the feat of self-demolition to avoid the high cost charged by the municipality. The two homes, sheltered eleven people, whom have now become displaced as a result of the Israeli order. (IMEMC 1 JUNE 2020)

- The Israeli municipality of West Jerusalem issued an order to evict and demolish 200 decades-old Palestinian-owned industrial structures in Wad al-Joz neighborhood in occupied East Jerusalem. The Israeli municipality, at the recommendation of its all-Israeli Planning and Zoning Committee, issued a final order to evict and demolish 200 structures in Wad al-Joz industrial area, including car repair and parts shops, restaurants, and other facilities. The Palestinian industrial area in East Jerusalem serves the city's 300,000 residents. (WAFA 1 JUNE 2020)
- Israeli occupation Army (IOA) removed by force, a number of Palestinian-owned vegetable stands, in the Jordan Valley, eastern West Bank. In the agriculture-rich Ein Albayda' and Bardala villages of Al-Aghwar, Israeli army force broke into Al-Aghwar and began removing five produce stands, owned by local Palestinians. Such an action was unjustified and that it has caused the owners a great deal of financial losses, as families rely on the income they earn from selling produce. (IMEMC 1 JUNE 2020)
