- A large number of Jewish settlers escorted by police forces desecrated the Aqsa Mosque in Occupied Jerusalem. Dozens of settlers, including several paramilitary soldiers, entered the Mosque in different groups through its

Maghariba Gate and toured its courtyards under tight police protection, according to local sources. During their tours at the Islamic holy site, the settlers received lectures from rabbis about the alleged temple mount and a number of them provocatively performed Talmudic prayers. House Demolition and Demolition Threats

- Israeli soldiers demolished two Palestinian homes, and the foundation of a third home, in the occupied Palestinian capital, Jerusalem, in the West Bank. Several army jeeps and bulldozers invaded Jabal al-Mokabber town, southeast of Jerusalem, and demolished a home, owned by Ata Ja'fara, allegedly for being built without a permit. Ja'far said that his home, only 90 square/meters, was demolished for the first time in the year 2010 before he rebuilt it to provide shelter for his eleven family members. In addition, the soldiers demolished another Palestinian home, owned by members of the local Husseini family, near Bab al-Magharba, in occupied Jerusalem. The soldiers also demolished the foundations of another home in the Shayyah area, in the at-Tour, in the eastern part of Jerusalem. It is worth mentioning that a month ago, the Burqan family had to demolish its property to avoid the excessively high fines and fees, and today, Tuesday, the soldiers invaded the area and removed the remaining foundations of the property. The owner of the property, the mother of Eyad Burqan, said the family had to demolish its two-story building this past November, to avoid having to pay more than 400,000 Shekels fines, and added that the army demolished the remaining foundations to force us to pay the expenses and demolition costs. She also said that the demolished property provided shelter to twenty Palestinians, including her four sons and their children. (IMEMC 14 December 2021)

- The Israeli occupation authority (IOA) in east Jerusalem demolished a Palestinian house and the foundations of another one, whose owners were forced to raze last month. A demolition crew escorted by police forces stormed ash-Shayyah area in the east Jerusalem neighborhood of at-Tur, and embarked on knocking down the foundations of a house belonging to the family of Burqan. The family of Burqan had to raze their house about one month ago to avoid paying exorbitant money to the Israeli municipality if they had not complied with its demolition order. The family was surprised to see Israeli machinery demolishing the foundations of the two-story house, which they had demolished in last November to avoid paying 400,000 shekels in fines and demolition expenses. It was not enough for the occupation authorities to demolish Burqan home and displace 20 people, four sons and their kids, the IOA also want to fine the family and make them pay the demolition expenses under flimsy pretexts. (PALINFO 14 December 2021)
- The Israeli occupation authority (IOA) in east Jerusalem demolished in the morning another house belonging to the family of Halis near the Maghariba Gate in east Jerusalem at the pretext of unlicensed construction. (PALINFO 14 December 2021)

Land Razing and Confiscation

- Israeli occupation authorities (IOA) began razing a Palestinian-owned land at the entrance to Sheikh Jarrah neighborhood in the occupied city of Jerusalem, which was earlier seized under the pretext of “public interest.” The IOA municipality crews and bulldozers began the bulldozing work on the confiscated land, an area of about 4,700 square meters owned by four Palestinian families and used as a parking lot and car wash. The Israeli Supreme Court had issued the confiscation order by the end of October with the aim of establishing a park for a nearby Israeli illegal settlement. The Israeli municipality first issued a decision to seize the land in 2016. (PALINFO 14 December 2021)
