Violations of the Israeli Occupation Army

- Israeli soldiers invaded Halhoul town, north of Hebron in the southern part of the occupied West Bank, leading to protests before killing a young man and wounding five. A large military force invaded Halhoul and obstructed traffic before storming a money exchange shop, confiscating a large sum of cash, and welding it shut. The invasion led to protest before the soldiers fired dozens of live rounds, rubber-coated steel bullets, and gas bombs, killing a young man and wounding five. The soldiers shot Mahmoud Fayez Abu Ayhour, 27, from Halhoul town north of Hebron, with live rounds. The bullets perforated the diaphragm and severed the thoracic aortic artery, his heart, and lung. The young man is in a profoundly serious condition and succumbed to his serious wounds during surgery. The soldiers also shot two Palestinians with live rounds and one with rubber-coated steel bullets, in addition to two others who were shot with high-velocity gas bombs in their heads. The slain young man's uncle said Mahmoud wasn't participating in the protests and did not pose any threat to the soldiers but was working at a construction site in the area when the soldiers started firing live rounds at random. (IMEMC 9 June 2022)
- Israeli soldiers abducted three young Palestinian men and assaulted one, causing wounds that required hospitalization, in the al-Isawiya town in occupied Jerusalem in the West Bank. Several army jeeps invaded the town before the soldiers abducted three young men, Yousef Elian, Monir Elian, and Ibrahim Dirbas. The soldiers also isolated the town, attacked many Palestinian cars, causing damage, and ordered the Palestinians to return to their homes. Furthermore, the army assaulted a young man, Wadea' Tawfiq Abu al-Hummus, causing various wounds. (IMEMC 9 June 2022)
- Israeli soldiers in several army jeeps invaded the al-Makhfiyya area in Nablus city, leading to protests before the soldiers fired live rounds and gas bombs. The soldiers shot a young man with a bullet in the leg. The soldiers also invaded the al-Ma'ajeen neighborhood and fired gas bombs and live rounds. In addition, the soldiers invaded Tal village, south of Nablus, searched homes, and abducted a young man, Amir Bassel al-Hindi. (IMEMC 9 June 2022)

- Israeli military vehicles stormed Nablus city in the northern West Banks, where the soldiers ransacked several houses. During the ensuing confrontations, the heavily-armed soldiers opened fire towards local youths, wounding one by a live round in the leg. (Wafa 9 June 2022)
- A number of military vehicles and a bulldozer stormed Jenin refugee camp and city as snipers positioned themselves on rooftops of residential buildings, triggering confrontations. The soldiers fired live ammunition, tear gas canisters and stun grenades, hitting three young men by live rounds in the shoulder and foot. (Wafa 9 June 2022)
- Israeli occupation authorities (IOA) decided to deport the Jerusalemite activist Hanadi Halawani from Al-Aqsa Mosque for a week; in preparation for handing over an extension decision that may reach six months. An Israeli police officer tried to hit Halawani and yelled at her, while she was notified of the decision to banish her from Al-Aqsa. Halawani indicated that after she was left under the sun waiting for investigation for a long time, the occupation police was forced to let her enter the interrogation office after seeing a group of Turks stopping to talk to her and take pictures. ## Israeli Settler Violence

- A group of Israeli settlers today tried to kidnap a Palestinian child near the town of Yatta, to the south of Hebron in the occupied West Bank, while another group attacked the memorial of martyr Sheikh Suleiman Al-Hathalin, east of the town. A large group of rampaging settlers gathered near the town, attacked Palestinian citizens, and tried to kidnap a child, but were fiercely confronted and thwarted by residents. A group of settlers from the settlements of Ma'on and Karmiel, which are built on Palestinian citizens' lands in the Masafer Yatta area, brought bulldozers and embarked on the construction of a settler-only road east of the town. Israeli settlers destroyed the memorial of Sheikh Suleiman Al-Hathalin, which was built by the families of Masafer Yatta and several foreign activists near the entrance to the village of Umm Al-Khair, east of Yatta. (IMEMC 9 June 2022)
- Israeli colonizers attacked a Palestinian farmer on his land in Kisan village, east of Bethlehem, south of occupied Jerusalem in the West Bank. The colonizers came from the nearby Ma'ale Amos colony. The colonizers

- assaulted Raja Obeyyat while working on his land, causing various cuts and bruises before fleeing the scene. (IMEMC 9 June 2022)
- Israeli settlers torched the wheat crops of Qusra town, south of the northern West Bank city of Nablus. A group of settlers set fire to the wheat crops belonging to the town farmers. Two days ago, Israeli soldiers and officers of the so-called “Civil Administration” prevented Palestinians from working on their lands in the village, purportedly for being classified as Area C. (IMEMC 9 June 2022)
  - Dozens of Jewish settlers stormed al-Aqsa Mosque under heavy police protection. Islamic Endowments Department in Jerusalem affirmed that 159 Jewish settlers stormed the Mosque via al-Magharibah gate. During their tours at the Islamic holy site, the settlers provocatively performed Talmudic prayers. (PALINFO 9 June 2022)
  - The Israeli naval forces opened fire at Palestinian fishing boats off southern Gaza shores. Israeli gunboats targeted Palestinian fishing boats with heavy fire and tear-gas bombs while sailing off Khan Yunis shores to the south of the Gaza Strip. The fishermen were forced to return ashore, the sources added. (PALINFO 9 June 2022)

Home Demolition & Demolition threats

- Israeli soldiers demolished an under-construction quadruplex house in the Be'er Owana area in Beit Jala city, west of Bethlehem, in the occupied West Bank. The house is owned by Walid Zreina. The Palestinian received the demolition order just a week earlier, and wasn't granted sufficient time to appeal the decision. The army claims the building was not licensed by the Civil Administration Office, the administrative branch of the illegal Israeli occupation in the West Bank. It is worth mentioning that the army demolished the home for the first time four years ago before the Palestinian rebuilt it to shelter his family. The army previously demolished several homes, owned by members of the Zreina family, and several other families in the area, as part of Israel's activities and policies. (IMEMC 9 June 2022)
- Israeli soldiers invaded an apartment building in the Wad Qaddoum neighborhood in Silwan town, south of the Al-Aqsa Mosque in occupied Jerusalem, and measured an apartment building in preparation for demolishing it. The soldiers, accompanied by personnel of the City Council in occupied Jerusalem, invaded the building before surveying it and taking measurements to determine the demolition method. The City Council issued the demolition order just a week earlier, and the army is now preparing to demolish it without granting the Palestinians sufficient time to file appeals. The building has twelve apartments inhabited by dozens of Palestinians, including children, elders, and people with special needs. Eyad Abu Sbeih, a resident of one of the apartments in the building, said he lives there with his six children. Abu Sbeih said that, just two years ago, the Israeli army demolished his home in the Ein al-Louza neighborhood in Silwan, allegedly for being built without a City Council permit, despite all applications, appeals, and hefty fees. "Since the year 2004, the families in the building have been trying to obtain permits and paid excessive fines and fees amounting to about 900.000 Shekels. However, the City Council denied our applications," he added, "Now, the army will demolish the building and displace our families at any given moment, especially due to the so-called Kaminitz Law allowing the destruction of Palestinian property without a court ruling." The so-called Kaminitz Law, amendment 116, was signed in 2017 to expand the Israeli government's authority on "preventing illegal constructions."
