Violations of the Israeli Occupation Army

- Israeli navy ships attacked many Palestinian fishing boats with live fire, gas bombs, and flares near the shores of Khan Younis and Rafah in the southern parts of the besieged and impoverished Gaza Strip. The navy ships chased several Palestinian fishing boats near the shore of Khan Younis and fired many live rounds and flares. The navy also fired several live rounds and gas bombs at fishing boats near the shore of Rafah. The attacks did not lead to casualties but caused damaged and forced the fishermen to leave, fearing additional Israeli escalation and violations. (IMEMC 10 September 2022)
- In Sinjil town, northeast of the central West Bank city of Ramallah, the Israeli soldiers fired many live rounds, rubber-coated steel bullets, and gas bombs at the Palestinians before physically assaulting several many residents, causing injuries. The attack in Sinjil occurred after several Israeli colonizers invaded Palestinian farmlands in the ar-Rafid area in the village, where the colonizers are trying to install an outpost on the Palestinian lands. Two colonizers were injured after the Palestinians intercepted their attack and hurled stones at them. The Palestinians were trying to tend to their lands and plant them when the colonizers and the soldiers attacked them. As a result, six Palestinian cars were damaged, two Palestinians were shot with live rounds, two with rubber-coated steel bullets, and dozens suffered the effects of tear gas inhalation. (IMEMC 10 September 2022)
- In Kufur Qaddoum, east of the northern West Bank city of Qalqilia, the soldiers attacked the weekly procession and shot four young men with rubber-coated steel bullets. The soldiers also ambushed and tried to abduct several Palestinians. (IMEMC 10 September 2022)
- The Israeli soldiers attacked a nonviolent procession near the main entrance of the al-Jeeb village, northwest of the occupied capital, Jerusalem, in the West Bank, and injured five Palestinians who were pepper-sprayed and assaulted; among the wounded were Moayyad Sha'ban, the head of the Wall and Colonization Resistance Commission in Jerusalem, and nonviolent activist Omar Maw'ed. (IMEMC 10 September 2022)

- In Nablus, in the northern West Bank, the Israeli soldiers shot two Palestinians with rubber-coated steel bullets and caused dozens to suffer the effects of tear gas inhalation in Beit Dajan village, east of the city.
- In Beita town, south of Nablus, the Israeli soldiers injured five Palestinians during the weekly procession near the town's main entrance. (IMEMC 10 September 2022)
- The Israeli occupation forces (IOF) attacked Palestinian fishermen and their boats off the southern coast of the embattled Gaza Strip, forcing them to return ashore. Israeli gunboats encircled a number of fishing boats off the shore of Khan Yunis and opened machinegun fire at them. No one was reportedly hurt in the shooting attack. Recently, there has been a sharp rise in attacks on fishermen by the Israeli occupation navy in Gaza waters. Fishermen and their syndicate have been reporting for a while an uptick in the number of boat seizures, gunfire incidents, arrests and assaults on fishermen, including children. Such Israeli restrictions in Gaza's territorial waters curtail fishermen's ability to fish and make a living to support their families. (PALINFO 10 September 2022)
- While on their daily fishing expedition, several Gaza fishermen's boats came under attack from Israeli navy ships enforcing a 16-year-long sea, land and air blockade on the impoverished Gaza Strip. The Israeli navy ships encircled the Gaza fishermen sailing in the Khan Yunis coast in the south of the Gaza Strip before opening machine gunfire and flares toward them. Likewise, fishermen sailing across the Rafah coast, also in the south of the Gaza Strip, came under attack from the Israeli navy. No injuries were reported in either attack, but the fishermen had to cut their work short and return to the shore to avoid being hit or detained by the Israelis. (WAFSA 10 September 2022)
- The Israeli occupation forces tightened their measures at the so-called "Beit El" military checkpoint. The occupation forces obstructed the movement of vehicles through the checkpoint in both directions, stopped and searched a number of vehicles and checked citizens' ID cards, which led to a stifling traffic jam. The Israeli occupation forces closed their military checkpoint near the settlement of "Ofra" east of Ramallah, and impeded the movement of citizens. (WAFSA 10 September 2022)
- The Israeli occupation forces closed the iron gate leading to the villages of An Nabi Saleh and Bani Zaid, northwest of Ramallah. The Israeli occupation forces closed the gate and prevented citizens' vehicles from entering and leaving the area. (Wafa 10 September 2022)

Israeli Settler Violence

- Israeli settlers have called for mass raids of al-Aqsa Mosque to mark the so-called the Hebrew New Year on 26 and 27 September. "The Temple Mount is in Our Hands" group declared that hundreds of buses will be available to bring settlers to the holy site. The settlers called for preparing Talmudic rituals to be held inside the al-Aqsa compound. Meanwhile, Palestinian activists called for intensifying Palestinian presence at the Mosque to foil the settlers' plans. (PALINFO 10 September 2022)
- Several Palestinians were injured, two of them with live ammunition, while a third was arrested when a group of Jewish settlers attacked Sinjel town, northeast of Ramallah, under military protection. The settlers attacked local residents in their agricultural lands which are threatened with confiscation, and caused damage to 6 vehicles. The settler attack was carried out under Israeli occupation forces' protection, which led to the outbreak of clashes. Israeli troops fired teargas bombs and live ammunition during the clashes, injuring two young men with live shots and others with rubber-coated metal bullets. Dozens others also suffered from teargas inhalation, while three youths were attacked with rifle butts. A young man was also detained during the events. (PALINFO 10 September 2022)
- Extremist Jewish settlers destroyed 25 olive trees belonging to a Palestinian citizen in Qaryut village south of the West Bank city of Nablus. A number of Jewish settlers destroyed 25 olive trees belonging to the Palestinian citizen Bilal Raja after cutting down the barbed wire around his land in Qaryut village. (PALINFO 10 September 2022)
- Israeli Settlers continue to build facilities in the vicinity of Ein al-Sakot spring in the northern Jordan Valley. The settlers have recently built umbrellas over the spring, in preparation for completing their control and turning it into a tourist resort, and denying Palestinian citizens access to it. The settlers, about a month ago, started building cement and iron structures in the area. It is noteworthy that two years ago, the settlers installed iron gates in the vicinity of Ein al-Sakout. (Wafa 10 September 2022)

Israeli Closures

- Israeli occupation forces shut down today the main entrance to the village of Nabi Saleh, to the west of Ramallah, which also leads to the neighboring villages of Dayr Ghasana and Bayt Rima, according to local sources. Army forces shut down with a metal bar the road leading to the three villages, denying access of the Palestinian traffic to the road, the sources said. Clashes reportedly erupted between Israeli occupation soldiers and angry Palestinian protesters in the aftermath of the closure. No injuries were reported. (Wafa 10 September 2022)
- The Israeli occupation forces closed the entrance to Beit Ummar town, north of Hebron, with an iron gate, and prevented citizens from passing through the main entrance of the town, impeding the movement of citizens. (Wafa 10 September 2022)
