The occupation forces ordered all Palestinian shops in the vicinity of Bab al-Zawiya and Beersheba Street to shut down as settlers prepare to hold celebrations in those areas. A day before, the occupation forces fired teargas bombs at homes in Jabal Jawhar area coinciding with the settlers' storming of the Ibrahimi Mosque under the pretext of celebrating Jewish holidays. The settlers also set up tents in the Ibrahimi Mosque courtyard and Jaber neighborhood and turned the Rajabi and Jabari buildings into military strongholds. (WAFA 19 November 2022)

- Israel is keeping a cancer-stricken Palestinian man in administrative detention despite his urgent need for medical attention. Abdul Baset Mu'tan, 48, from the town of Burqa, east of Ramallah, has colon cancer, and his health is constantly deteriorating. Mu'tan was slammed with six months in administrative detention in July, only three months after his release from a previous six-month administrative detention sentence. Following an appeal for his release to allow him to get treatment for cancer, a military court reduced his sentence to four months. However, the six-month order was reinstated following an appeal by the military prosecutor. (IMEMC 21 November 2022)

- The Israeli Prison Authority informed imprisoned Palestinian-French lawyer, held under Administrative Detention without charges or trial, that it revoked his Jerusalem ID card and stripped him of all residency rights in occupied Jerusalem, and will be deporting him to France upon his release. The Israeli occupation imposed a three-month Administrative Detention order against the imprisoned lawyer, Salah Hammouri, 37, and renewed the order in June 2022, then renewed it again in September 2022. Hammouri, a lawyer and a field researcher with the Ad-Dameer Prisoner Support And Human Rights Association, spent more than eight years in Israeli prisons, starting when he was abducted in 2001 and was sentenced to five months in prison. In 2004 he spent four months under arbitrary Administrative Detention orders without charges, then was abducted again in the year 2005 and was imprisoned for seven years, and then in the year 2017, he was abducted yet another time and spent 13 months under Administrative Detention orders, and upon his release, he received an order barring him from entering the rest of the West Bank for two years. On June 6, 2022, Salah received another three-month Administrative Detention order just hours before his scheduled release after being imprisoned for three months under a similar order. The decision to revoke his residency was made in October of last year, 2021, after accusing him of "breeching loyalty to the state" for his human rights and legal work in defending Palestinian political prisoners. Salah was born to a Palestinian father from Jerusalem where he grew up and lived, and his mother is a French national. Several years earlier, Israel deported his French wife to her country after detaining her at the airport in Tel Aviv for three days when she returned to Jerusalem. Salah and his wife have two children. (IMEMC 30 November 2022)
