Confiscation & Razing of lands

- The Government Declares 2342 Dunams South of Jericho as State Land. The Army radio exposed today that on March 10, 2016, during Vice President Biden's visit to Israel, the Civil Administration's Head of the Government Property signed a declaration according to which 2,342 dunams (580 acres) south of Jericho are now government property. This declaration of state land comes two months after it was reported that the Minister of Defense approved a declaration of 1,500 dunams as state lands in an area south of Jericho. It appears that the January approval by the MoD permitted the land declaration which is now being implemented. However, the size of the land declared is larger than what was published in January and includes 2,342 dunams. The declaration, which is in fact a confiscation, was meant for the expansion of nearby settlements as well as for trade and tourism projects operated by the settlers. This is one of the largest declarations in recent years, and it is another illustration of the government's policy of land confiscation, including those far beyond the green line and the separation barrier.
