Other

- Israel Proposes Electronic Gates for Al Aqsa mosque in Jerusalem city. An Israeli proposal to install electronic detection gates on all entrances of Al-Aqsa mosque in occupied East Jerusalem. The Israeli news source Walla has reported that the Israeli Minister of Public Security Yitzhak Aharonovich plans to replace the current gates to Al-Aqsa mosque so that all praying Muslims will be scanned and searched at the new e-gates whenever they attempt to enter the holy site. "The Muslim prayers will be subject to a very accurate search and scanning and those who are granted clearance to pass through those gates will surely be free of all metals and fireworks,” said the news source. The Israeli news source said that the aim in installing electronic gates was to ensure that Palestinians will not be able to carry or smuggle into Al Haram Al Sharif any instruments and materials that could be used in confronting the Israeli occupation forces.
